When I open my Gmail...

Your photographs make me smile :)

I love watching your videos.

I know that you are working super hard and choosing lots of the challenges to practise your reading, writing and maths skills.

I read all of your emails and I will always try to acknowledge your message with a response. Even if it is just a quick 'thank you'.

You can send emails every day, every few days or once a week. I know how busy you are at home so share your child's learning at an appropriate time for you. I will get back to you as soon as I can :)

Please keep sending your photos, videos and any work you'd really like me to see. You don't have to send every piece. You can send a selection of your learning or even your personal best learning :)
