

Choose a Challenge

During this slot, you can pick any of the challenges below. Some may take you longer to complete than others.

Try to remember the high standards I expect in class with both effort and presentation.

- Carry out some research about one of these inspirational people:

- Neil Armstrong
- David Attenborough
- Rosa Parks
- Malala Yousafzai
- Albert Einstein

You may want to present this information in a fact file or as a poster

- Pretend that you or someone you know has won the lottery. Write a newspaper report about it.
- Write the alphabet from a to z. Then for each letter, write down an animal that starts with that letter.
- Make up a superhero and create a comic strip all about their adventures.
- Design a new invention. Think about what it could be made out of and what it does.
- Design and make a new board game. Could you play it with a member of your family?
- Pick 7 things you could take to a desert island with you. Write these in a list and explain why you have chosen that particular item.
